Speakers

Part 1—Hurricane Irma

Pablo Caceres primarily litigates complex first and third-party coverage matters in state and federal courts, including appeals. Pablo has successfully handled hundreds of hurricane and other high-value property claims, totaling well into the hundreds of millions of dollars, and he has defended E&O claims asserted against multi-national insurance brokers. He also has significant litigation experience with first and third-party bad faith claims.

Jay Jackter began his career with Safeco Insurance Company in 1976, then focused on first party property claims with general accident before moving on to multiple technical and managerial positions with CNA, AIG, Ohio Casualty and now Liberty Mutual. Jay has been a field adjuster, general adjuster, regional supervisor, claims branch manager, claims audit manager, regional claims manager, and now acts as a property litigation consultant.

Part 2—Hurricane Harvey

Shannon O'Malley focuses her practice on analyzing complex and novel property insurance coverage issues that require an understanding of the intricacies of property insurance, especially in connection with time element claims. She works on numerous property insurance issues arising out of catastrophes such as tornados, hurricanes, floods, and hail. Shannon has also worked with clients in analyzing unique D&O liability issues and works with them to find the right answer when coverage questions arise.

Steven J. Badger represents the commercial property insurance industry in emerging and significant risk exposures, both as a plaintiff in large loss catastrophe subrogation matters and as a defendant in coverage matters involving weather related litigation. Currently, Steve's practice is devoted entirely to leading the insurance industry response to the emerging hail risk. His practice focuses solely on addressing the issues arising in hail damage claims and resulting litigation.
